Manager T. K. Albaugh Elected President.

Strong Fortification Against the Guile of Barnstormers.

The Theater Managers of Obio in convention Wednesday afternoon at he Grand Opera house, completed an organization, adopted by-laws, transacted other business, and adjourned effecting the organization than was at held today. Many of the managers returned to their homes Wednesday vening, and the rest this morning. Headquarters of the organization, which was named Associated Opera House Managers of Ohio, will be in Akron, Manager T. K. Albaugh, of the Grand opera house, this city, was elected president; C. F. ## A Mother's Testimony...

Mrs. E. Smith whose address is Bryn Mawr, Montomery county, Pa., writes: "I feel it my duty to write a few words in praise of Ripans Tabules. I have been a user of them in my family since they came on the market, and I can truly say I never saw anything like them. I nsed to be worried about my little boy, who is 8 years old, as he seemed so frail; the cause was natural constipation. Now I never have a bit of trouble; just as soon as he finds he needs any medicine he goes and takes a Ripans Tabule, which always acts like a charm. My husband was troubled with his kidneys and pains in his head, side and back, but since using the Tabules he is not troubled any more. He thinks they are indispensable, and always carries them in his pocket,. I also use them for my baby, and I think there is nothing equal to them for young children. I mash a Tabule fine for baby. Every one wonders why my children are all so healthy and fat. Ripans is the

> the membership will have reached 100, do not get together." There are 125 managers in Ohio, outside of Cleveland, Cincinnati and Columbus, and nearly 100 of these have written to Mr. Albaugh approving the organization. Besides, managers of Pennsylvania and West Virginia theaters, in towns near the border line, will be admitted to the association. The next convention will be held at Put-in-Bay, the second Wednesday in June, 1902. A set of by-laws were adopted. They were prepared by M. C. Barber, A. G. Henry, Ed L. Moore, W. R. Lipps and W. H. Robison. Among their provisions are a plan to protect theater managers and the public from bad shows. and impositions on the part of traveling managers. Whenever a bad show is sighted, the secretary of the association will be notified at once and he wlil send a note of warning to all the managers throughout the state.

A committee-Chas. F. Collins, H. A. Dykeman, M. C. Barber, Ed L. Moore, A. G. Henry—was appointed to inves tigate the chances for securing a repeal of the war tax of $100 upon all theaters in towns whose population exceeds 25,000. This committee, according to the by-laws, will be maintained permanently to investigate anything that may be obnoxious to the man-

Resolutions on the death of James A. Hearne, of New York, the actor-author, were adopted. They were prepared by has. B. Miller, Ed S. Bronson and S. E. Riblet. Mr. Hearne was the author of "Hearts of Oak," "Shore Acres," and "Sag Harbor."

The fact that headquarters of the association are to be socated in this city will strengthen and promote the atrical interest here, and undoubtedly result in attracting better shows to appear before Akron playgoers. It is source of satisfaction to his friends that Mr. Albaugh was selected as president of the association. They feel, however, that he was entitled to the position, for it was he who first started agitation toward organization, and who issued the call for a conven-

Commencement Will Be Held at High School, Friday Evening.

The program for the High school commencement Friday evening, will be especially interesting, in that it develops a single subject, all features of the program referring to it, and giving attention to all its phases.

The general theme is, "The . Development of the National Idea in Our Government." The sentiment of the class is epitomized in the following seed of Washington should miss fame's true applause:

Franklin did plan us; Marshall gave us laws; And slow the broad scroll grew a people's creed-One land and free! then at our dangerous need, Time's challenge coming, Lincoln gave it pause.
